

Being Healthy, Happy, Safe, Heard

Information for people wanting to perform

This is an event for and run by adults with learning disabilities in Norfolk

Performances will take place in front of the Forum in Norwich. This area is undercover.

There will be a pa system for you to use. Please bring along anything else you will need.

We may have a lot of performers on the day. We will try to give you the time slot that is best for you. Please be flexible if you can.

It is free for people to attend on the day
We have limited funding for this event. Please tell us any costs that you would need help with so you can take part.

To perform please complete the form and email it to us at admin@openingdoors.org.uk by 9.00am Monday 29 April 2024

Information for people wanting to perform

The steering group, who are people with learning disabilities, will look at the forms together.

We will be fair, and get different types of performances.

We will work out a performers timetable and look at costs.

We will confirm by 1 May if you have been successful or not; the performance time and the costs we can help with if needed.

At the end of May we will send out a final timetable and instructions for the day.
